

Bhutan 400MW energy storage power station project

The Mangdechhu hydroelectric project in central Bhutan, the country's latest hydro plant to come online, has brought a significant increase in the installed power capacity, providing additional ...

