

Burkina Faso energy storage lithium iron phosphate battery

The country is a major gold producer, which remains critical for its economy, but the potential for lithium production is drawing significant attention as demand for electric vehicle batteries and ...

