

Because of its large number and wide distribution, 5G base stations can be well combined with distributed photovoltaic power generation. However, there are certain intermittent and volatility ...

