

The increase in allowable solar capacity for single-phase connections is a significant improvement for renewable energy adoption in Malta. This change makes solar power more efficient, cost ...

