

Photovoltaic hybridization is when the roof or available ground surface of an industrial unit is used to equip it with photovoltaic panels and produce the energy consumed through a hybridization ...

