

A solution to these problems is the transition to renewable sources of energy to power the cold chain. Installing solar-powered instant chilling facilities will reduce supply-chain waste, cut ...

