

Remote control of base station power cabinet

XUZHOU CREATE is a technology company specialized in security and access management for various industry utilities, including telecom industry, power and water utility, transportation, ...

This innovative and sophisticated cabinet lock is designed to provide a high level of security and convenience for various applications, With the use of remote control technology, this digital ...

The management unit and the host adopt a 19-inch frame structure, and provide a 1U digital solid-state circuit breaker installation carrier. It is composed of an intelligent controller cascaded with ...

Remote control of base station power cabinet

